Munich native Ursula Glück is shot and killed in her sleep during a dream honeymoon on the Inca Trail. Her husband, Jona Kepler, the sole witness, claims they were attacked by two men. Back in Munich, homicide detectives investigate, but suspicion falls on Kepler. With no motive or evidence, the truth remains elusive.

How do you solve a murder on the remote Inca Trail, with no witnesses, no weapon, and no evidence? Chief Inspector Rita Berg faces this challenge after Ursula Glück is killed during an alleged robbery. Her husband, Jona Kepler, claims innocence, but suspicion lingers. Despite a lack of motive, Berg keeps digging. Eighteen months later, in New York, she uncovers a life insurance policy worth a million dollars. The investigation picks up speed, leading her team to Peru, where conflicting accounts, a matching suspect, and another robbery deepen the mystery. After a three-year investigation, new evidence emerges, pointing to Kepler. The prosecution has no doubt anymore and hands the man over to the judiciary, though he continues to protest his innocence until the very end.

A murder with no witnesses, no weapon, and no evidence – Chief Inspector Rita Berg must solve the unsolvable on the remote Inca Trail.

4 Seasons, 48 × 50 min

Chief Inspector Benedikt Beissl has been running his police station in Berchtesgaden pretty much on his own for many years, when all of a sudden the top brass decide to assign him a new colleague:

Jerry Paulsen is not only everything that Beissl is not, namely charming, talkative and open-hearted and as the son of an American GI, speaks English fluently. But all this bothers Beissl a lot less than the fact that Jerry also happens to be going out with his beloved daughter Johanna – this guy is practically his son-in-law! With his winning ways, the “wannabe Obama” really gets on Beissl’s wick. But when the pair are on a case, their private issues remain outside the door – well for the most part.

The stories of a mismatched pair of detectives and their family entanglements provide the perfect blend of incidental humor, family life and a varied array of criminal cases – all set against the imposing backdrop of the magnificent Alps. What else could you want in a successful police series?

Hattie meanwhile is tired of Marius and all the town's complaints, and so she decides to run for mayor. The whole town turns out for a charity drive-in movie night. But the event is interrupted by cries of fire, and large parts of the town burnt down. When the smoke clears, local do-gooder Seventh Day Adventist Frank is found dead. After her husband dies in a seemingly accidental road accident, small-town undertaker Brunhilde Blum uncovers the truth behind his death – a murder connected to dangerous people. As she grapples with her grief, Blum embarks on a perilous quest for revenge, confronting the darkest corners of her own soul.

For undertaker Brunhilde Blum, death is a part of everyday life. But when her husband, police officer Mark Thaler, is struck by a car and dies in front of her, her world is shattered. Struggling with the loss and the prospect of raising their teenage daughter Nela and young son Tim alone, Blum is determined to find out who was behind the hit-and-run. The investigation stalls, and the well-meaning condolences from Mark's colleagues and local figures offer little comfort. When Blum discovers a phone hidden in Mark's motorcycle case, she stumbles upon unsettling revelations. As she unravels the truth, Blum's journey for vengeance takes her down a perilous path, exposing hidden dangers and forcing her to confront the shadows within herself.

Bernhard Aichner, bestselling author of the novels, is thrilled with the scripts for Season 2, praising them for brilliantly continuing the story for TV audiences.

An incorruptible judge has spent his career fighting organised crime. But the tables are turned when his son is found guilty of a hit-and-run.

For Judge Michael Jacobi his job is a vocation. Nonetheless, he opts to put himself above the law after his son Julian flees the scene of a car accident. The motorcyclist in the coma is known to Jacobi. He is the son of the infamous mob boss Radan Sailovic, whom Jacobi once put behind bars. The otherwise fearless judge knows precisely how much danger his son will be in if the Sailovics learn what happened. His attempt to cover up the car accident, with the help of his friend Franz, goes completely awry, however, and he soon comes under pressure from the investigations of Detective Kirchner. Meanwhile, Arija Sailovic, who does not believe that his brother's accident was simply an accident, attempts to take over the family business. This triggers a bloody gang war with shady factory owner Lindner, who is also a danger to Jacobi. The judge finds himself forced to betray all his principles – to save his son and his career.

"Your Honor" is a gripping three-part adaptation of the hit Israeli series "Kvodo", filmed against the stunning backdrops of Tyrol and Vienna.

When a Nordic Airlines flight to the USA is hijacked by remote control, a team of Swedish investigators must race against time to unveil the identity of the mysterious hijackers before they either bring down the plane themselves or it gets shot out of the sky by the US military.

Frederika Bergman, who is brought into the team by Sapo's Eden Lundell, is reunited with her former police colleague Alex Recht, whose son Erik is the plane's co-pilot. Soon, she finds herself in an adrenaline-fueled race against time to save the lives of everyone on board, while personal conflicts, technical issues and an unfolding conspiracy threaten to derail her search for the truth. Fredrika starts to doubt Eden's version of events, suspecting that the answer to the mystery may be found much closer to the investigation itself. At the heart of it all is Said Kehlifi – a Syrian academic imprisoned controversially while giving a lecture in Sweden, whose case Fredrika has been working on. Is Kehlifi the mastermind behind the hijacking, and if so by what means? As the plane hurtles towards disaster, who is controlling who?

A 6-part thriller set in the long shadow of the "War on Terror", "Hostage" is a nail-biting study of people imprisoned by their pasts.

The investigation into the disappearance of Barbara Neder by the police authority in charge is less than exemplary. Her brother decides to take on the case himself – unaware that the search for Barbara will take more than 30 years and will reveal a series of horrific murders.

In the summer of 1989, Barbara Neder, the sister of high-ranking Hamburg police officer Thomas Bethge, disappears from her home without a trace. Shortly before this, two couples had been cruelly murdered in nearby woodlands. Suspicion quickly shifts toward artist Hans Ligner, who is a gun enthusiast living on the forest's edge. However, the links between the earlier murder cases, the "Killer Forest" and Barbara's disappearance remain unnoticed by the investigators initially. Instead the police's focus turns to Barbaras husband, who was in the midst of divorcing her. Their daughter Theresa is profoundly affected by her mother's disappearance and the mounting suspicions surrounding her father. These circumstances lead Theresa to believe that her father might be her mother's murderer.

Inspired by real-life-events that took place in the late 1980s, this sinister mini-series tells the story about a family tragedy, and of a brother searching for his missing sister for more than 30 years.

Norway, sometime in the future. Anton and Emma are both sixteen and live in the same city, but in different climate zones. They were never supposed to meet, and certainly not to fall in love.

Anton lives in a dome – a human-engineered environment large enough to house a small city. Anton is a privileged and well-liked kid, on track to make his family proud. But he is also tired of being good, and in the midst of a raging, confusing puberty. Emma lives on the outside of Anton's dome. She belongs to a clan comprised of her extended family. As a child, Emma sometimes accompanied her mother into the dome where she got some part-time work. Emma used to dream of living like the kids inside. But lately, she's been feeling a radical, righteous anger. And that anger, that indignation, is shared by many communities on the outside. Emma and Anton meet in the first episode, under scandalous circumstances, and an adventure ensues. Will they get to be together, despite their families' best efforts to keep them apart?

"Dome 16" is an exciting and thought-provoking series about young people who find themselves on different sides of the class divide in an imaginary future.

A fugitive's motive for escaping can be anything from revenge to fear – or love. Once the motive is identified, the fugitive can be found without endangering the safety of others. At least that is what Karita thinks. The chase becomes personal when Karita's closest friend and colleague Niklas disappears during a fugitive case and is presumed dead. GENRE

Series, 17 × 90 min

Berlin is sexy, deadly and dangerous. The German capital is not only a party mecca, it tops in crime and murder as well. Inspectors Nina Rubin and Robert Karow are bigcity homicide cops and an uneven duo:

Nina is a hothead who tends to explode when confronted with individual injustice, while Robert is a cool, rational thinker with a healthy dose of mistrust for anyone and anything. Their murder cases lead them behind the scenes of glamorous Berlin, while a certain unsolved case hangs over it all, putting their partnership to the test: Robert was transferred from the narcotics department, where he has a shadowy history. Robert's former partner was found shot, and the murder weapon was found on Robert ...

A highly successful, gripping crime series set in vibrant Berlin, starring Mark Waschke ("Dark", "Generation War") as a brilliant logical investigator alongside Meret Becker ("Babylon Berlin", "Fabian") as his loyal colleague.

A German single mom and a Polish cop have to work together to solve the cases that straddle the Oder river – learning as much about themselves as about each other in the process.

In the German-Polish police station in Swiecko by Frankfurt on the Oder, the successful odd couple Adam Raczek and Olga Lenksi handle the investigations that involve Polish and German sides. Olga is a single mom, juggling her family life and police career with difficulty sometimes. Adam has Polish roots, but is at home on both sides of the border, and has a hard time dealing with his partner's chaotic private life sometimes. Despite the geographic proximity, there's a lot that divides the cops on both sides of the border, as they keep finding out in the course of their international cases ...

Crime knows no borders. Neither does a good detective show. The odd couple detectives are perfectly cast with Maria Simon ("Goodbye, Lenin!") and Lucas Gregorowicz ("Soul Kitchen", "Lammbock", "Our Mothers", "Our Fathers") in the leads.

It was probably the most murderous conference in human history. The subject: plans to murder 11 million Jews in Europe.

For 21-year-old Margot Friedländer, who had been doing forced labor near the Wannsee villa since 1940, a painful new chapter began after the conference's consequences. In 1943, she and her brother Ralph tried to escape. Margot hid from the Gestapo for months until her arrest in 1944, after which she was sent to the Theresienstadt ghetto. She was the only family member to survive the Holocaust. For the documentary, Margot returned to the "Villa am Wannsee", where the conference took place 80 years earlier. "An invitation to a meeting on the 'Final Solution of the Jewish Question', followed by breakfast", she reflects in the interview. "I will never understand how such a thing could happen." The documentary also features historians like Barbara Schieb, Prof. Peter Klein, and Prof. Götz Aly, who have extensively studied and analyzed the Holocaust.

A rape case is being heard at the Berlin District Court, a legal and human dilemma of immense explosive power. The future of two people and the fundamental values of our society are at stake.

It is a high-profile case: well-known TV presenter Katharina Schlüter and industrialist Christian Thiede have been having a secret affair for years, and are now sitting opposite each other in court. On the witness stand, Schlüter describes how the initially consensual sex in Thiede's apartment turned into rape. But is evidence such as traces of semen on the dress she wore that day enough? Experts and witnesses are heard, and an unexpected twist in the case does not make it any easier for the court to decide on credibility and truth.

A unique courtroom drama by bestselling author Ferdinand von Schirach and directed by Matti Geschonneck ("The Conference"). Through precise observation and listening, delicate questions and dilemmas are revealed, focusing on common values: Truth, justice and dignity.

THE CONFERENCE

BY MATTI GESCHONNECK

GENRE

Historical Drama
TV-Movie 108 min

A historically accurate, haunting drama about a meeting that was part of planning the Holocaust.

On the morning of 20th January 1942, in a villa on the lakefront of the Wannsee in Berlin, leading members of the Nazi regime came together. They had been invited by Reinhard Heydrich to a meeting followed by breakfast. The sole topic on the agenda that morning was what the Nazis called the Final Solution to the Jewish Question: the organisation of the systematic mass murder of millions of Jews across Europe.

The film follows the protocol of this meeting. It was shot at the original location at Wannsee Lake in Berlin and produced by Constantin Film for the 80th commemoration day of the conference. It stars some of the most well-known German-speaking actors in the lead roles: Philipp Hochmair ("The Experiment"), Johannes Allmayer ("Colonia Dignidad"), Maximilian Brückner ("Cherryblossoms"), Thomas Loibl ("Toni Erdmann") and Rafael Stachowiak ("Undine").

Chaos can be a good thing – it can even bring you love! Not that either Philipp or Frederike are thinking along these lines when they randomly meet. The two single parents are just trying to think straight and calm their heart rates after a bomb disposal operation blows up their tightly scheduled plans for the day:

Philipp is trying to get to a property viewing on time, so he can find a new home for himself and seven-year-old Miriam. Frederike's situation is even more urgent, as she must vacate her apartment with her son Fritz and is therefore searching for a kitchen she can use. She is a chef and has the opportunity to land her dream job, but she must prepare a sample menu for her prospective boss that evening. On the spur of the moment Philipp and Frederike decide to help each other out. What starts as crisis management soon develops into something a little more romantic.

Physiotherapist Julika is a young, attractive mother of two sweet children – and a widow. Two years ago, her husband Michi died in an accident. Julika still misses him sorely, even regularly leaves him a voicemail. Nevertheless, she rushes headlong into an affair with the easy-going bicycle city guide Konstantin. Suddenly life is full of lightness again, full of magic and adventure. But is this really love?

Can there be a new great love for Julika after her great love Michi? For her loving but sometimes overbearing parents-in-law Georg and Christa the case is clear: The affair with Konstantin can only be an “animalistic” aberration. After Michi’s death, the family is very attached to each other, and even live together in the same house. But with Konstantin, the whole family structure is thrown into disarray. How sure can Julika be of Konstantin, who until now has never really wanted to commit himself?

“Another Love” is a real love film about great love, past love and future love.

Kira and Ian, two 30-somethings, meet all too briefly over a winter weekend on the Isle of Skye and form a sudden, deep, and surprising bond. Back in London, they try to move on with their separate lives – but both have to stop running from themselves before they are ready to truly meet.

“Falling Into Place” is written and directed by Aylin Tezel, one of Germany’s most prolific young actresses. Like all great love stories, it is not just about the love between two individuals, but also about the dreams and anxieties of a generation.

Aylin Tezel (“7500”, “Unbroken”) and Chris Fulton (“Outlaw King”, “Bridgerton”) head up a cast including Alexandra Dowling (“Game of Thrones”), Samuel Anderson (“Gunpowder Milkshake”), Layo-Christina Akinlode (“The End of the Fing World”), Kathryn Howden (“Malevolent”), Michael Carter (“The Illusionist”) and Rory Fleck-Byrne (“This is Going to Hurt”). DoP Julian Krubasik (“We Are Next of Kin”, “Dig Deeper: The Disappearance of Birgit Meier”) was behind the camera. Grammy nominated composer Jon Hopkins (“Monsters”) and Ben Lukas Boysen (“The Collini Case”) created the score music. And Des Hamilton (“Jojo Rabbit”) was responsible for the casting.

The passionate story of the life and love of Lucia, the famous veiled courtesan who broke Casanova's heart ...

"A Beautiful Imperfection" tells the empowering story of Lucia, Giacomo Casanova's only great love, who leaves Italy for Amsterdam after her face has been disfigured by smallpox. Sixteen years later, they meet again when she has reinvented herself as a veiled courtesan now known by the name of Galathée. Without revealing her true identity or showing her face, Lucia and Giacomo become lovers once again. Will Lucia dare to reveal herself and turn her weakness into her strength so that she can be truly free in the eyes of her great love?

Michiel van Erp ("Open Seas", "Stromboli", and the award-winning series "Ramses") directed the English-language romantic drama. He created a modern version with a strong female character, set against the stunning backdrop of Venice. "A Beautiful Imperfection" is based on the historical novel "In Lucia's Eyes" by Arthur Japin, which has been published in over 20 languages and sold more than a million copies worldwide. Jonah Hauer-King ("The Little Mermaid") is cast in the role of Giacomo Casanova and Dar Zuzovsky ("Hostages"), his first and greatest love, as the courtesan Galathée.

Tortured and threatened with deportation, the young German Jew Stella is forced into a fateful tragedy: She begins to track down fellow Jews in hiding.

Stella, a young German Jew, grows up in Berlin during the rule of the Nazi regime. She dreams of a career as a jazz singer, despite all the repressive measures. After she is forced to go into hiding with her parents in February 1943, her life turns into a culpable tragedy. Through a betrayal, she is caught by the Gestapo, tortured and becomes a "grabber": to save herself and her parents from deportation to Auschwitz, Stella begins to systematically betray other Jews. From September 1943 until the end of the war, Stella Goldschlag delivered hundreds of fellow Jews to the Gestapo.

The special relevance of Stella Goldschlag's story for today's audience lies in the complexity of the protagonist and the hopelessness of her situation: "Stella. A Life." is a breathtakingly modern story. Her main character could be one of us: she is young, self-confident and in love with herself. This woman is a perpetrator – but also a victim. She forces us into the dilemma of betrayal. How would we have decided?" says director and writer Kilian Riedhof.

LOST TRANSPORT

BY SASKIA DIESING

In the final days of the turmoil of World War II with German soldiers abandoning a deportation train to the fate of advancing Russian troops, the chance encounter between the distrustful German girl Winnie, the courageous Dutch Jew Simone and the fearless Russian sniper Vera leads to an unexpected friendship.

In the spring of 1945, a deportation train carrying over 2,000 Jewish concentration camp prisoners is stranded in East Germany. The German train leaders flee from the Red Army, which has already occupied the nearby village of Tröbitz. The people on the train are left to fend for themselves and rely on help from the village. But between deep mistrust, despair and a desire for revenge, a friendship grows unexpectedly between the German girl Winnie (Anna Bachmann), the Dutch Jew Simone (Hanna van Vliet) and the Russian sniper Vera.

In the ruins of war, three strong female protagonists have to break away from their survival strategies, overcome their resentment, anger and mistrust in order to see the others as human beings again and meet them with compassion. From a female perspective, Saskia Diesing links real events about flight, deportation and occupation.

At 12, it was angel dust. At 13, it was heroin. Then she hit the streets.

When 13-year old Christiane is introduced to the disco scene in late 1970s Berlin, her life changes utterly. Her new friends take LSD and heroin and soon she too becomes an addict. In the mornings, she goes to school and in the afternoons she is a child prostitute, turning tricks for her next hit. Instead of freedom, heroin only brings ruin and death, and takes some of her closest friends ...

The cult classic, telling the true story of Christiane F.'s descent into heroin addiction and prostitution, is now available in a fully restored 4K version. Produced by Bernd Eichinger ("Downfall") and Hans Weth ("The Noah's Ark Principle"), and directed by Uli Edel ("The Baader Meinhof Complex"), the movie masterfully captures the hopes and fears of a lost generation of Berlin youth, set against the backdrop of the disco scene of the late 1970s. The heartbreaking movie features a special appearance by David Bowie, and the soundtrack is peppered with some of his biggest hits.

It was supposed to be a harmonious family get-together. But no sooner have husband and wife Stephan and Elisabeth arrived on Lanzarote with new parents Thomas and Anna than new conflicts start erupting in the Böttcher family. Elisabeth and Thomas can hardly believe it when their mother Dorothea announces that she and adopted son René are now married and that they want to have children!

Three years after the highly successful comedy of manners "How About Adolf?", acclaimed director Sönke Wortmann ("Contra", "Ms Müller Must Go") is now back with the equally caustic sequel "Family Affairs". The leading role of the mother is played by Iris Berben, known from "Triangle of Sadness". In varying alliances, a family starts wrangling over complicated lines of inheritance, impossible pregnancies and the modern concept of what a family is – with the Spanish sun, the charms of a young female vintner and the effects of space cookies escalating the situation even further.

The trio finds a dead man lying on the beach below the guest house. Who is the dead man, how did he get here, and could he have anything to do with the death of Cecilia's mum the year before? The trio and their dog Egon start unwinding the road to the truth, which is a perilous one, lined with escaped prisoners, mysterious guests, secret diaries and dark, old passages into bunkers left from the war.

“Clue: The Maltese Mystery” is a highly atmospheric and adventurous mystery with a charming trio of three young detectives set in the beautiful Norwegian landscape. It's a Nordic noir film for kids, based on the adaption of internationally bestselling novels of acclaimed author Jørn Lier Horst's. It is directed by Thale Persen, who was one of the directors of the series “Heirs of the Night”.

A collection of hit family movies from turbulent road trips to romantic disasters. The films follow the adventures of Sune, his friends Sophie and his little brother Hakan as they contend with all that growing up has to throw at them.

In the latest installment "Sune – Mission Midsummer", Sune and Sophie both want to celebrate Scandinavian Midsummer with their families. But the day before they leave, Sophie breaks up with Sune. It's a disaster! Trying to win his beloved Sophie back, Sune makes the mistake of listening to his little brother, who has watched thousands of romantic comedies from the 80s. It turns out to be a very bad idea ...

The "Sune" Movies are hilariously entertaining adventures for the entire family. The heroes and heroines are brimming with vitality and ingenuity in a fantastic plot full of heart, humour and action.

Twelve-year-old Hugo still believes in elves, but is teased by his peers, so he decides to force himself to grow up. But when his family goes on a Christmas holiday, he discovers that elves live in the hotel. Can Hugo be persuaded to go on another elf adventure to help elf girl Snow to return to her home? Magic, just one last time ...

Hugo tries to suppress it and fights an inner battle not to help the elf girl Snow, who has lost her elf parents and lives alone with her siblings. Snow can't make the reindeer fly because she never learned magic. But Hugo is done with elf adventures – or is he?

Helpfulness or coolness? Of course, our grown-up hero Hugo (Pelle Krusbæk from Thomas Vinterberg's Oscar®-nominated "The Hunt") chooses the right way in this enchanting third installment of the successful "The Christmas Family" movies. The magical and exciting adventure fires the imagination, brims with humour and fun. A tentpole attraction for the holiday season.
